The most damaging stories with reference to that officer have been circulated, and if one-tenth of what is reported were true he deserves not only to be dismissed in disgrace, but also to be expelled from the Methodist Church, to the ministry of which he belongs. So circumstantial and specific, indeed, were the charges Methodist Church, to the ministry of which he belongs. So circumstantial and specific, indeed, were the charges against Mr. Cramer that our confidence in him, we must confess, was shaken, but now comes Mr. C. H. Wolff, a merchant of the highest standing of this city, and furnishes the other side. To this we direct the attention of the public. Mr. Wolff's statements, to those who know him, need no indorsement at our hand. His own name is sufficient to satisfy his acquaintances that he would not write a line to defend any man if he believed him guilty of the least of the many acts that have been charged against Mr. Cramer. It would seem that there is an organized conspiracy, which extends to Germany, to destroy the reputation of President Grant, for this is what the attacks upon Cramer and other persons connected with the administration mean. A Saugerties (N. Y.) lass answered an advertisement for a wife, and, after allovely correspondence of a few months, invited the candidate for matrimonial honors to come and see her. He accepted the invitation, but imbibed too freely on the way. On reaching Sangerties, he had to go several miles from the depot, and stopped at nearly every house to inquire if Miss — lived there. To show that his intentions were strictly honorable, he would read her lest letter and pass on to the next house. He arrived at her house just before midnight, and soon after the old man's boot traveled around the basement of the tight young man's pantalions. The correspondence has ceased.

your breath to look at it, it is restly a very interesting process to see. It is made, perhaps you know, ot charcoal, saltpeter and brimstone. Each of these articles is prepared in a house by itself; but the house where they are mixed is the first tearible one. In this building an immense millstone, rolling round and round in an iron bed, and under the stone see put the three fear. under the stone are put the three fear-ful ingredients of gunpowder. There they are thoroughly mixed and ground together. This is a very dangerous ope-ration, because if the stone comes in contact with the iron bed it is very apt to strike fire, and the merest suspicion of a spark would set off the whole. The materials are spread three or four inches thick in the bed; the wheel, which goes by water power, is started, and every man leaves the place. The door is shut and the machinery left to do its terrible work alone. When it has run long enough, the mill is stopped and the men come back. This operation leaves the powder in hard lumps or cakes.

But the men can't go away from this;
they are obliged to attend to it every moment, and you may be sure no laugh

The Library of the late Hon. Thad-deus Stevens was sold by public auction in Philadelphia on Friday. The colin Philadelphia on Friday. The collection embraced some 1,200 volumes, a few of the books being rare and valuable. Good prices were realized, the aggregate sum being $3,000. The sale was attended by many men of prominence in political and social life from Boston, New York, Baltimore, Washington and elsewhere. Connected with the sale is a painful history, which was mentioned in the auction room vestermentioned in the auction room yester-day. Thaddeus Stevens died at Wash-ington, on August 11, 1868. In his will was a provision bequeathing to a nephew the library referred to upon condition that he abstained from indulgence in spirituous and malt liquors for a period of five years. In the event of his failing to keep the pledge of total abstinence, Hons. O. J. Dickey, Edward McPherson and Anthony Roberts. executors of the estate, were required to sell the library. On Friday it was sold, and the amount will be distributed among all the legal heirs.
